WIT and HUMOR

CANVASSER MEETS HIS EQUAL

Aggressive Sewing Machine Agent Runs into Undertaker and is Forced to Retreat.

He was a sewing machine agent of the most aggressive type. For 20 minutes the lady of the house had been awaiting an opportunity to say she already possessed one. At last he paused. Only long enough, however, to thrust a card into the lady's hand. The bit of pasteboard was certainly a novelty.

"My name is Sellum," it read, "of the firm of Bland and Company, sewing machine manufacturers, and I intend to prove to you that it is madness to defer purchasing one of our unequalled machines." After a long description of the machine came the following: "You may plead that you are unable to work a machine. I will remove that objection in 15 minutes, or in three lessons. Will call next Wednesday."

When the agent called again a six-foot man opened the door and blandly remarked: "You're the sewing machine man, I suppose?"

"Yes, I called last week, and—" "Yes, I know," interrupted the big man. "You don't know me, I suppose? My name's Bury, of Bury and Keepem, undertakers, and I intend to prove to you that it is madness to defer purchasing one of our unequalled coffins."

The agent began to edge away. "You may plead that you are scarcely qualified for a coffin," the big man went on. "I will remove that objection in ten seconds."

But the agent simply flew from the house.

A Drifting Apart.

"Well, what did you think of Dr. Plumper's sermon this morning?" asked Mrs. Poopleigh of Mr. Poopleigh, as they were returning home.

"I'm afraid, my dear," said Mr. Poopleigh, "that I failed to catch the drift of his remarks."

"No doubt, no doubt," observed Mrs. Poopleigh, in caustic tones. "And the reason why you failed to catch the drift of Dr. Plumper's remarks was probably because you yourself were drifting toward Slumberland."

COULDN'T LOSE HIM.

Tom—She broke the engagement.
Dick—What did Harry do?
Tom—He sent her a bill for the use of the engagement ring for the time they were engaged.

At Two in the Morning.

The Jolly Fellow (to the man above, who has been dragged from his bed by the wild ringing of his front door-bell)—One of your windows is wide open.

Mr. Dressing Gown—Thanks, awfully, old man. Which one is it?

The Jolly Fellow—The one you have your head out of. Ta ta!—Pearson's Weekly.

Not Fishless.

Bill—Where have you been?
Bill—Fishing.
"Any luck?"
"Well, I'm taking home quite a few fish."

"Where are they?"
"In my pocket. I stopped at the store and bought a can of sardines."

An Encouraging Observation.

"The prayers delivered at the great conventions have been beautiful."
"Yes," replied the delegate. "I am pleased to observe that our nation is progressing in religious ideals. The prayers were the only utterances that met with unanimous approval."

Doctor's Revenge.

Landlady—You believe in mustard plasters?

M. D.—Rather! I always order them for patients who call me out in the middle of the night when there's nothing the matter with 'em.—The Scalpel.

Worth Weight in Gold.

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1 bottles.

CAP and BELLS

ANOTHER GOOD PATIENT GONE

Doctor Who Did Not Prescribe Atlantic City as Place of Rest Loses Woman's Favor.

"Doctor," she plaintively said, "I want you to tell me just what is the matter with me."

"There is nothing the matter with you," the doctor replied, after he had questioned her concerning her symptoms, "except that you need a good rest. Go away to some quiet place, where you can sit or lie around and be free from worry of any kind. You don't need medicine. It wouldn't do you any good if you took it."

"Where would you advise me to go?"

"Oh, you must suit yourself about that. There are plenty of places where you can go—any place that is quiet, where you can sit or lie around will do."

"Thank you. Do you think Atlantic City would be a good place for me?"

"No, don't go to any place like that. Select some quiet spot where you will not have to worry about dressing or anything of that kind. If you could go up into the woods somewhere, or if you could spend a couple of months on a Montana ranch, it would be the best thing in the world for you."

"Oh! Well, I've just had six new gowns made, and if you can't give me any medicine that will make me feel better I shall go to some other doctor. I never did believe you knew anything, anyhow."

A Roundabout Explanation.

"Have you ever gone into a ticket office to make inquiries concerning the cost of a trip by boat or by rail?"

"Yes."

"And have you ever found the young man who was supposed to be on duty there so calmly indifferent that he declined to give you an answer to any of the questions you were bold enough to put to him?"

"I have had experience of that kind—yes. Why?"

"Oh, nothing—only you asked me a moment ago how I had skinned my knuckles."

NATURALLY.

Pick—Has any of your family gone away for the summer?
Kick—Only the cook.

He Was an Average Man.

"Aren't you ashamed of yourself to go through life and do nothing for the world?" said the lady at the kitchen door to the tramp.

"Do nothing for the world, madam!" said the itinerant taking off his cap. "Do you happen to know that, electrically speaking, the average man each day dissipates about two and a half kilowatt hours of energy in motion, muscular action, mental exertion and heat radiation."

A Thing to Be Changed.

"I see by this paper," said the meek little husband, "that of the 112 tourists who lost their lives last year by Alpine ascents, 11 were women."

"What," shouted his suffragette wife; "only 11 of the number women?"

"That's what the paper says, dear."

"Well, you just wait until we women get a vote, we'll change all that!"

Of No Practical Benefit.

"You don't seem to regret the fact that a number of people speak unkindly of you."

"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "the only kind words that ever secure unanimous indorsement are those that compose an epitaph."

Big Enterprise.

"Why don't you take a part in politics?"

"I never take a part in anything," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "My rule is all or nothing."

One of the Number of Metcalfe's Exclusives

This is a cut of Metcalfe's new Prosperity Shaper, which is going such a long way in decreasing the irritation of men folks' necks and tempers, by letting all fold collars be so ironed that the slides well in collar, and collars are given nice, smooth, overl edge. It is utterly impossible for a collar to crack or break in our laundering process. Our shirt department is one which we feel proud of; not only is work done right, but the shirts are put in Sanitary Covers. Our Dry Cleaning department is in the hands of skilled workmen.

We have flowers for all occasions. Remember that if you buy or contract for $10 worth of coupon books, and take one during August and another when the Avalon is finished, the profits from the business, and more, go into the Avalon, a place of pleasure for Hopkinsville and surrounding country people.

The Wilson Campaign Fund

The Kentuckian will publish the names of all subscribers to the national Democratic campaign fund as the money is received. It will be transmitted to the National Treasurer, Rolla Wells, who will send each contributor a handsomely lithographed receipt.

Address all subscriptions to the "Wilson Campaign Fund," care of this paper. Make cheques payable to that fund. Send in your subscription at once, no matter how large or how small.

The Democratic national campaign for the election of Governor Woodrow Wilson as President and Governor Thomas R. Marshall as Vice President of the United States is the people's campaign.

The Finance Committee ask you to aid them in their plan of raising campaign funds by popular subscriptions.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE KENTUCKIAN:—

As a believer in the progressive ideals of government represented in the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson for president of the United States, and to the end that he may take the office free-handed, untrammelled, and obligated to none but the people of the country, I wish to contribute through you, to be forwarded to Rolla Wells, Treasurer, the sum of..... toward the expenses of the campaign.
